Chapter 17: Adventurer Misha, looking for a fight

It was already noon by the time we woke up.

We went down to the first floor in order to eat our meal.

"Well, well, it seems that you had a very fun time yesterday"

I got made fun of by Okamisan.

As it is a fact that "that" happened, I have nothing that I could refute about.

Misha still has not gotten used to her human form, but there were already slight improvements.

"Humans sleep so little ne~... I, still can sleep more..."

"That is because a cat can sleep anytime and anywhere"

"I will slowly get used to the pace of humans"

I got slightly concerned while chatting with Misha.

"Misha, are you able to eat food that an ordinary cat is not supposed to eat?"

Food such as onions for example.

These foods are for human consumption but it will be poisonous for cats and dogs when consumed by them.

"Even if you asked me, I still do not know as I just became a human.

Furthermore, the grimoire does not have any written information of cats becoming a beastkin"

"Ah, if that is the case, there should not be any problem. There are also some beastkins living in the inn and there are no warnings regarding the food they should avoid"

I heard some valuable information from Okamisan.

As expected of a resident living for so long in this country.

Misha got bold after hearing that and attempted to drink a soup with onions in it.

"It tasted slightly spicy ne~"

It seems her first experience drinking onion flavor soup was not favourable.

Speaking of which, I cannot recall the time I first drank onion soup so I could not understand how she feels now.

After the meal, Misha and I headed towards the guild.
However, it took more time than expected.
Our pace is a lot slower because of Misha.

It is not because of Misha not being used to the way a human walks. There is no issue in this area.

Misha is simply amazed by using a human line of vision to see the world.
"Eh~, so this is how it looks from a different angle..."

She looked like the time when we just arrived in the capital.

However, there are also many people coming from a rural village (and looking around like Misha) so we don't feel out of place.

Before we entered the guild, we decided to first enter a clothing store in order to purchase a robe with holes for her tail.

Misha wore a black robe that is meant for the black-cats tribe.

"How is it? Does it suit me?"

In the shop, Misha stood and spun in front of me so as to allow me to see how she looked.

"Un, it suits you so much that it is as if the clothes was specially tailored for you"

Although I have always been together with Misha, the time I spent together with her in human form is still extremely short.

Hence, the way Misha is smiling now looks extremely dazzling to me.

"Just a little... I felt troubled by how cute Misha has become..."

"This is the appearance made by the effects of magic. Although it felt weird getting compliments because of this, well, I would still accept your compliment"
Misha appears nonchalant regarding this matter.

By the way, this is not a biased opinion from me.

When we were walking through the street, many passersby also took a second glance at Misha.

This only proved that Misha is an attractive girl.

This situation also continued when we entered the guild.

Many line of sight gathers onto Misha.

Misha and I continued walking towards the guild receptionist Aria-san.

"Are~, you did not bring your black cat along with you today?"

I see... It seems that I have been recognized as the adventurer who will bring a black cat along with him.

"Er, well... I left Misha at the inn..."

"Well then, what type of business do you have today?"

Misha then moved in front of the reception desk and appears in front of Aria-san.

"I came here to register as an adventurer. My name is Misha"

"Are~, a beastkin cat girl with the same name as Keiji's housecat...?"

Oh no! Somehow, the situation becomes abnormal!

What to do? As expected, I can't say "My housecat is actually extremely strong so she used a transformation magic herself and became a human" ...

"Misha is just a name given by this guy. Can you believe that this guy actually gave me the same name as his housecat? This is the end result"

Misha gave an explanation.

However, this explanation made me look like a weird guy with a cat fetish...

"So that is the reason. Oh, do you need an explanation regarding the guild?"

"There is no need yo~. I have already heard it before"

Misha was also present when I registered with the guild.

"Well then, the annual fee for registering as an F rank is 300 coins"

"Goshujinsama, please give the money"

That's right. I currently managed all our money, but it might be a good idea to give Misha some money for future sake.

Misha received a F rank guild crest that is dark purple.

Speaking of which, my crest is green in colour as I am D rank.

"Thank you very much, Aria-san"

"Are~, did I tell you my name?"

For some reason, we keep saying some contradicting information during our conversation.

No matter what, our registration is successfully completed.

After that, we can raise our rank by completing more commissions put up by the guild.

However, it seems that we could not go back peacefully.

After our registration, a group of 5 men appears behind Misha and me.
"There is only two of you right? How about forming a party and entering the dungeon together?"

A man with a bald head spoke to us.

He looks like a warrior as he is holding a huge axe.

I understood their intentions immediately when looking at their gaze.
Their purpose is Misha.

Honestly speaking, Misha's beauty is unparalleled.
Her beauty makes even those people whom discriminate against beastkins forget about their dislike.

Those fellows wanted a beautiful girl because they are single.

It's not as if I could not understand their feelings.

"There are two B rank adventurers within us and their ability is extremely strong. It should be fine right?"

That bald man got overly familiar with Misha and put his hand on her shoulder.
That man's crest showed he is a B ranked adventurer so his ability must be legitimate.

Speaking honestly, I wanted to keep Misha all to myself and it is troublesome letting other people know about Misha's ability. Hence, it should be better to reject them.

However, I did not have to opportunity to even speak.

Misha did not beat around the bush and rejected them straight in their face.

"I refuse, and remove your dirty hand!"

Misha ferociously strike down the bald man.

"I want to fight together with Goshujinsama! I do not want to be recruited to your party! Why don't you just find that stray cat over there! That should be enough for you!"

"Hey, you, aren't you too cocky for a beginner?!"

Ahh... this method of solving things is too direct...

"As for me, although I just registered as an adventurer for the first time, I can still guarantee my ability as a magician. You fellows are no match for me!"

"Hmp, give us some prove if you can talk so big"

"Well then, would you like to fight? As long as both party consented, it will not be against the rule right?"

Hey hey! Too rush! You are too rush!

I am only Lv 15, so my ability as an adventure is only at most average!

Although it should be easy for Misha, but it will still be dangerous battling against multiple human!

However, Misha should also understand this.

"I alone will be enough. All of you can come at me at the same time"

It seems that Misha intended to fight alone in the beginning.

"You, better not underestimate the power of our party!"

Hence, the situation developed into a duel.

Afterwards, once only Misha and I remains, I immediately complained that her methods of solving things is bad

"Rather than saying bad, this is a good opportunity"

However, it seems having a duel is part of Misha's plan in the first place.

"Just how strong is my battle ability in my human form, let's test it out"

Chapter 18: A cold sweat battle

The duel is set to begin 2 hours later.

We will move to an empty field inside the capital during the evening.

Although the capital is a modern city, there are still some empty patches of field.

It reduces the injuries caused by fighting on the soft soil surface. Well, Misha is unlikely to be injured anyway so all is fine.

We spend our time by loitering in a small alley nearby.

As Misha is now more eye-catching in her human form, it is better for us to remain in the alley to keep out prying eyes.

"Well~ then~, how far should I send them flying?"

Misha is already sure of her victory. It naturally became this way since she holds overwhelming strength.

"Is it fine to stand out so much?"

"There is no harm for an adventurer to show having strong abilities but it will be troublesome if others know that I am Lv 71"

"That's right, as long as you understand . Speaking of which..."

There is something that I would like to confirm.

"What did you choose to wager?"

The duel stated that each party can propose something stake.

For example, even something like "Honor" could also be used as the stake.

"We each wager 3 million coins"

I immediately tried to refute that statement.

"That, isn't that almost all our money after purchasing the grimoire!?"

"But looking from another perspective, we can earn another 3 million coins after winning the duel"

"It seems that is the case. As expected, their party also has considerable income"

"Although we already managed to obtain the grimoire, we still need to have more money. We need to save more money in order to buy our love nest"

"Ahh, I definitely like to have a place to live in"

"That's right. If we managed to get another 3 million coins, we can buy an even better love nest" (T.L Vomiting in progress)

Misha's voice then suddenly became softer.

No, it is not just her voice only.

Even her body began shrinking —

All that remains is her long robe.

"Misha!"

I screamed out loudly in surprise.

Don't tell me, the side effects of the magic will cause Misha to melt...

"Nya~"

Misha appears in her black cat form from underneath of her robe.

"What! Please don't surprise me so much!"

"It seems, there is a time limit to the transformation magic. As yesterday was my first time using it, it seems the time limit is 12 hours. It is impossible to achieve 24-hour transformation" (T.L Noooooooooo, Misha core is still a cat and not a human)

"Maa~, it will be fine as long as you use it again"

"However, there is something troubling"

This statement is bad for me heart.

"I am more tired than expected. If I do not rest for another 2 hours, I do not have the confidence to perform another transformation"

"Maa~, just slowly rest in your cat form... Ah!"

Isn't that the time for our duel!?

2 hours later.

Misha still has not recovered from her fatigue.

Since there is no other choice, I carried Misha in her cat form and headed towards the battlefield.

"Are~, where is that beastkin girl?"

Of course the one who spoke up is the man with the largest build.

"That, she is currently missing..."

"Hey hey, don't tell me she ran away"

It seems the other party is slightly surprised.

"As expected, it is impossible for her to face all of us alone so she chickened out"

A youth within the team said so.

"Th, that might be the case... but I do not know the details"

In any case, I tried stalling for as much time as possible.

"In that case, would you substitute on her behalf, Onii-san? We would also accept this arrangement"

"N, no way. I am someone who is against violence between fellow human beings"

It is impossible for a Lv 15 to take on 5 people in one go. Furthermore, there are 2 rank Bs within them and their level surely must be above 20.

"Aria-jouchan, so what should we do?"

The man with large body build asked Aria-san who came here to check.

"I see... the rule in this case is..."

Aria-san showed me an apologetic look.

"If the wager is something that could be surrendered, the side that failed to turn up need to give up the wager"

We will lose 3 million coins!!!

"S, sorry! I need to go to the washroom!"

I ran into the washroom and spoke to Misha.

"Oi, we have an emergency! What should we do now!"

"I know... Although it is slightly risky, I managed to come up with a strategy. Let's go out now"

After confirming the strategy, I headed towards where the other adventurers are.

"So what now? We were the side being humiliated so pay up the bet. Although I felt sorry for you being abandoned by your companion"

The man with huge build said this.

"Hahaha! I did not ran away!"

The group of men looked over us strangely.

It seems they are trying to confirm whether the cat is actually speaking.

In actual fact, she is currently speaking right now.

If a talking cat became a commotion, at that time it will —

"I am the magician Misha. I will be fighting in this cat form as your opponent"

Yup, the scenario we created is that Misha transformed into a cat.

"No, there are 5 of us here as your opponent. It is better for you to fight as a normal magician"

"I am g, giving all of you a chance. No matter what, I will be fighting in this cat form"

"I understand. Don't come crying!"

It seems that the opponent accepted our story.

"Ano~... she might receive heavy injuries in that form. Is that still alright?"

Aria-san came over to confirm.

"Yes, there is no problem! That magician is extremely strong"

"I understand... Well then, let the duel commence!"

"Neko punch!"

Misha shouted her technique.

The man with the huge build is immediately sent flying.

The enemy mage attempted to use a fire spell in the meantime —

Misha approached at high speed! before this,

"Neko punch!"

All the remaining enemies were sent flying by neko punch.

"M. magic... not using?..."

The man with huge build retorted despite being knocked down. Just how much do you want to retort?

A Lv 71 physical strength alone is tremendous.

The spectators viewing the duel were praising Misha with "Amazing!".

And with this, Misha obtained a flawless victory in her cat form.

"Congratulations"

Aria-san talked to Misha in her cat form while squatting down.

"Nya~"

This means "Thank you". Although it would also be fine speaking in human language.

"Ano~, could you return to your human form and say a few words to all the spectators?"

Aria-san, what are you saying all of a sudden?

"I, I understand..."

I entered a nearby washroom together with Misha.

And 3 minutes later...

"With my power, of course it is easy to obtain this victory!"

Misha waved to the spectators while wearing her long robe in human form.

As it will cause further fatigue, Misha swiftly returned to her cat form in a nearby toilet after this.

"It is extremely tiring today... The transformation magic cost more power than expected. After this, the fatigue will kick in"

Misha then nimbly climbed and rode on my shoulder.

"Maa, we now understand the limitation of the transformation magic"

"However, we also obtained a huge loot today"

Ahh, she is referring to the wager.

"Tomorrow, let's go find a good house!"

Chapter 19: Decision for a New Residence

Thus, our accumulated savings exceeded a total of 6 million coins as a result of winning the duel.

Misha kept silent regarding her being Lv 71 and initiated the duel but I think it is only acceptable as a battle is a matter of life or death.

Also, those men accepted the duel halfheartedly so half of the fault lies with their team.

The bet of 3 million coins will be split between the 5 people so each person has to pay 600,000 coins. This is roughly equivalent to 6 million yen each. Please endure it as it is a sum you could earn by working hard enough.

And so, Misha and I decided to find a good house near the capital. On another note, Misha is currently walking using her beastkin form. It will be too unnatural if I kept asking a cat for opinions.

The owner of the property agency initially did not give a damn about us after seeing us enter the shop dressed like adventurers —

"We defeated a golden slime recently and earned a few million coins"

After hearing this, he suddenly became extremely friendly.

Actually, there are some adventurers who act almost like criminals so (being prejudged*) is unavoidable. (T.L I added this)

First of all, the boss introduced property near the central district with the price being on the high side.

I thought it is not bad though as I do not need a house that is too big as long as it's location is convenient when shopping for things —

"Wait a moment, I do not like it as it is too crowded here"

After Misha said that, we looked at houses located near suburb regions.

Those houses located in suburb regions were slightly larger so it also has its own benefits.

There were many houses that were considered huge compared to Japan's standards but it will be a hassle trying to clean the house if it is only the two of us living in it.

Then, we saw a house that was especially gorgeous in the cluster. It is easy to mistaken the house for ones that lower ranking nobles live in as the woodman-ship of the balcony was crafted with exceptional detail.

"Ano~, this house, is 6 million coins sufficient to buy this..."

"No, this only costs 4 million coins"

The property agency boss offered a price that is cheaper than expected.

But this also means, there must be something wrong with the house.

"There must be a reason right?"

The boss then honestly told us the story behind the house.

Unexpectedly, this is a villa constructed by a noble for his youngest daughter. As his daughter could not find a noble as her husband, he built a good villa for his daughter in order to raise her worth.

His daughter then fell in love with the fourth son of another noble but was subsequently betrayed and locked herself in the villa.

The condition of her body worsen after that and she passed away at the age of 17.

The house has no occupant ever since and then fell under the management of the property agency.

"There is a rumor that a spirit will appear to chase away anyone who attempted to live in the house"

"Did you try to remove the spirit?"

"It might be possible with a high ranking priest, but when I consulted with the church, they said that the spirit will not place a curse on humans and will leave on its own once it is satisfied so they would not do anything about it..."

In other words, did they think it is not worth their time trying to calm the spirit of a young girl that fall out of love?

During the time when I was talking to the boss, Misha did not join in but started exploring the house instead.

It was obvious that this house greatly interested Misha.

"Un, I have decided. Goshujinsama, let's take this house!"

"Let me remind you again. There might be spirits appearing"

"This house, has the most number of rooms out of what we see so far so it definitely will be interesting staying here"

Aah, is this based on a cat's judgement?

A cat will occasionally express an uneasy behavior in a foreign environment but once it gets used to it, it will start exploring the place.

I had a red tea-colored cat in my old house (name is called Maruosuke), and it also showed such behaviors when we moved to a new house.

One time when we were looking for Marousuke, we found it on the top of a cabinet gazing at all our family members.

The next time, we found it inside of our wardrobe.

The next time, we found it sitting in the empty space between our bookshelf.

The next time, we found it jumping to the top of the roof.

It basically tried to explore all possible spots.

Compared to a dog, a cat has a smaller territory area but it will guard its territory very closely.

The above are all descriptions of a cat's behavior.

"Also, as expected of the house a former noble used, it even has a proper bathtub"

That's right, a commoner house would not have a bathtub.

I have even seen children bathing with water in front of their house during summer time.

"Was there anyone being cursed to death previously?"

As a precaution, I asked the boss of the property agency.

"Nope, there was only a group of 3 people getting scared by the sound emitted within the mansion and left"

"Well then, we will purchase this house"

With this, my new cohabitation life with Misha will begin now.

If you want to count the spirit too, there will be one more person.

First of all, we have to inform Okamisan and Runaria of this.

"Thank you very much for everything until now"

"This is a good inn which makes me feel at home"

Misha and I got taken care by them for period of time.

"There is no need to feel so depressed. It is not as if you are moving to a faraway town"

"Let's have a meal if there is a chance"

Okamisan and Runaria congratulate and bid us farewell.

"Runaria please come over to play. I always welcome a good child"

Misha also expressed her friendliness with Runaria.

"However, I will definitely not let go of Goshujinsama"

Is there a need to express hostility immediately afterwards...?

"I do not have the courage to snatch something away from Misha"

Although it seems like Runaria is trying to tell a joke, it might also possibly be her real intention.

And then it is the first day of our cohabitation life.

Different from Japan, there were not many household items in this world so the number of things we needed to prepare was not that much.

The main problem is the issue with the spirit but I could bear with it if it is harmless—

I suddenly could not see the figure of Misha.

I look all over for her and found Misha in her cat form on the balcony and looking outwards.

Aah, I saw such a situation occur back in my old apartment.

She is not look at any specific scenery but is just staring blankly outside.

This fellow is looking at a space where there is nothing.

This is also one of the mysteries of a cat.

Maa~, I could hear Misha talking so it seems she is doing something.

— Un, it seems she is talking to something.

I heard voices of "Hehe" and "Fufu".

"You also have it hard ne~"

This, surely is not,

Misha is currently speaking to a spirit!

What I mean is, a cat is looking outside the window—

And saw things such as spirits!

I silently returned to cleaning on the first floor.

After about an hour, Misha in her cat form also returned to the first floor.

"I became friends with the spirit"

"I see. Good for you..."

"It seems the spirit likes cat. Hence, we will not be chased away"

"There is also cat-lover among spirits!?"

From then on, I could occasionally see Misha staring outside of the balcony.
As I did not face any problem, I did not voice out any opinions.
I personally am not all that interested in making a spirit friend...

Chapter 20: Being served by Master during new cohabitation life

Misha and I were the only ones living in such a wonderful and gorgeous mansion.

Nevertheless, there were various things we have to do on our own, since we are not living in an inn anymore.

Firstly, we have to prepare our own meals.

Next, there is the need to clean the house.

Lastly, the garden requires some maintenance.

However, since there were two of us living together, this is not a problem as long as we split the work.

"Goshujin-sama, the two of us will live a happy life from now on"

Misha said so as she clung onto my arm in her human form.

"Un, although there might be some rough times ahead, but as long as we are together, there will not be any problem we cannot overcome"

There was once I thought so.

Frankly speaking, I was too naïve then.

I was seriously too naïve.

"Goshujin-sama, it is almost time for a meal. Hurry up and prepare it"

Misha turned into her human form and told me while reading a grimoire.

She turned into a human as it was easier to flip the pages this way.

To increase the variety of magic we could use, we purchased other grimoires beside the one with transformation magic.

"Ah, I heard you. I am grilling the chicken now, so please wait a while"

"Yesterday's meat is too bland. Add more seasoning"

"I understand"

"Add more vegetables into tomorrow's meal. You have to be health conscious"

"Yes, yes"

It was fairly difficult to cook as there was only a small number of seasonings available in this world, as well as using ingredients that I am not used to. Having a Japanese supermarket would be so much more advantageous. Regardless, by having a stove that could be operated using a fire magic formation, was still considered relatively easy.

"Ah, that's right, the opposite room that has a square table is dusty. Please remember to clean it properly later on"

"I know of it already, I will go clean it after I finish cooking"

"The area under the bed is also dusty, and I would reek of mold if I were to go in using my cat form, so please clean it properly"

"Un, I will do that too"

"Goshujin-sama, remember to remove the weeds growing in the garden. The growing weeds make it seem as though this is an abandoned house"

"Aah, I will remember with my heart"

"It would look nicer growing some sort of red flowers. Go plant them after removing the weeds"

"Yes, I will go buy some flower seeds next time"

"Fuaaa", and Misha yawned

"I feel sleepy. I will return to my cat form after eating my meal, and sleep on Goshujin-sama's lap"

"Er...I certainly could do that, but I still have to do cleaning..."

"Let me sleep when I want to sleep. You could find some other time to do the cleaning and removing of weeds. Isn't this Goshujin-sama's job?"

"Urgh..."

"Ah, remember to wash the plates properly after eating. There are some stains remaining from yesterday"

And I was ordered to do everything.

It might be better If I said something here...

"Ah, that... I would be happy if Misha could help me with the cleaning..."

"Eh? Why must I do the same things as Goshujin-sama?"

"After all, we are considered living together, so... it is also important to split the workload..."

"Isn't taking care of me part of Goshujin-sama's duty?"

So that's how it is.

I see, there was also such a problem.

I was not aware of such an issue when we were staying in the inn — Misha has never done any housework.

I am not saying that Misha is an useless bride.
The problem does not lie there.

A cat just does not have the concept of doing housework.
Everything is expected to be done by the owner.

A normal cat would definitely not think of doing any housework.
There are also no cats that would cook for their owner.

This was the part that did not change even after Misha became a beastkin.

In actual fact, if Misha was still in her cat form, I would definitely not expect her to cook.

I might have placed unrealistic expectations on her after witnessing her beastkin form.

"Goshujin-sama, I am hungry. Hurry, Meal"

"I know, I know, and please stop calling me 'Goshujin-sama' when ordering me to do things"

The party that got called master was being ordered around, I felt that it is common sense that there is no such person in this world.

For example, someone would be called master by a maid. The maid would do everything including cooking and cleaning
Furthermore, the master should be someone staying in the study room, reading books.

I felt that this should be how it works.

Ordering her master to do cleaning — there is something weird with this!

However, I do not have the courage to confront Misha.

"Are~, Goshujin-sama, did you say something? What is the matter?"
Misha stopped reading her book and smiled faintly at me.

"No, there is nothing wrong..."

Putting aside whether she is a cat, it is a fact that majority of the money was earned by her.

Without Misha, we would not be able to defeat the golden slime. We would also not be able to live in such a house.

Despite both of us being adventurers, the contribution made by Misha versus me is 30:1.

Hence, it is difficult to tell her to "You should also do some housework".

At least it is difficult for me to say so.

Although I still hope that she would do the initiative and help out.

Maa~, it is already not normal for a cat to even talk.

The purpose of humans is to serve cats. This is the relationship between a cat and a human.

"Ah, that's right. Goshujin-sama, help me bath later at night"

Misha is a child that disliked bathing since she was still a cat.

"Yes, yes, let's do that too"

I am bathing a cat at that time, so there isn't any feelings.

Washing a cat's body, well, its feels normal.

Chapter 21: Flirting during bath time

And then, it is finally time for bathing.

Misha is waiting for me in her beastkin form.

Of course, since we will be bathing, she is also fully naked.

"Come over here, Goshujin-sama, and quickly wash me"

"Ah, ahhh... Misha, are you not using your cat form...?"

I am unable to remain calm.

I used a bath towel to scrub her back.

Different from the time when she was in her cat form, a beastkin does not have any hair growing on their body. Or rather, her whole body is silky smooth.

"Fufufu, it is slightly itchy"

Misha laughed in a playful manner.

"Well, it would be fine as long as you don't do anything crazy"

Depending on individual cats, some cats would hate bathing so much that they would start biting the owner.

"Well then, the next part is my head. Please wash while massaging my head"

I took some plant-made shampoo and rubbed her scalp.

Almost no bubble was formed, but 70% of the dirt could still be removed from the scalp by washing properly, so there is no problem.

And so, everything is fine thus far —

"Well, next is washing my feet"

Misha extended her left foot forward.

If this is the case, I have no choice but to move over to her front.

Well, I could then enjoy Misha's naked body.

"Don't, stare too much. Goshujin-sama, bad"

Misha scolded with a teasing tone.

"I know..."

I must remain calm, and empty my mind while rubbing her feet.

"I know, it is bad letting Goshujin-sama do all the work. I am still conscious of this"

"What, do you feel guilty now?"

"However, it is also weird asking a cat to work. The relationship between human and cats have been this way since the past, and everyone is still happy about it. It would be better to keep a dog if someone dislike this kind of relationship"

It is also true speaking of that.

In the end, Misha is still a cat.

She is not someone I know from school, nor someone I elected in politics. She is someone I chose and pick up in a pet shop.

Hence, it is just natural for Misha to be served.

"I am not dissatisfied with the relationship. I am Misha's master, so I am just doing things that a master should"

"Thank you very much, Goshujin-sama"

Misha faintly smiled at me.

"Hence, I thought that I have to give a reward to such a good Goshujin-sama"
And Misha hugged me with her bare body.

I could feel her warm body temperature transmitted to me.

Furthermore, she is licking my face like a cat now.

Rather than feeling ticklish, I felt that something is raising and it is getting difficult to endure it.

"Nothing would change my love for Goshujin-sama, so, please love me even more..."

"If you say something like that, I would not be able to endure any longer..."

Being told that by a fully naked, cat ear bishoujo of the same age with a sweet charming voice, there is no men that could not think of those things.

"Isn't it also Goshujin-sama's job to make me feel good? Hurry up now"

Misha laughed and teased me.

"Well then, I will start doing my job now!"

After that, I loved her intensely.

Probably within the span of thirty minutes, Misha screamed "I love Goshujin-sama the most!" for thirty times.

Even when we are soaking in the bathtub, I am always hugging Misha.
"Alright? All the housework are Goshujin-sama's duty. In return —"
Misha took in a deep breath and continue speaking.
"As an adventurer, I will earn enough gold that would allow Goshujin-sama to live a luxury life. For the sake of Goshujin-sama and my happiness, I will work harder. So that we could live life like a prince and princess!"

Ah, it seems that Misha is also thinking of me in her own ways.
"At the same time, Goshujin-sama must also became an even stronger adventurer. This is my way of showing love"
"Un, you should just stick to your own ways"

"Furthermore, it is fine when I was a cat, but I will mind being dirty when I am in beastkin form"
There are many person in this world that do not bath, but Misha value regarding this is closer to that of a Japanese.

"Hence, you must wash my body again and again, alright?"
"Ahh, that's right, we will get dirty when we enter the dungeon"
"Of course... you must also touch me..."
Ah, this... the purpose is not to wash her body anymore...

From this day on, "washing her body" became a totally different meaning between us.
It seem, the day where I must continue serving Misha, must still carry on.
However, regarding this situation, I also realize that this is my duty as her master. As the very least, we understood our individual roles.

On another matter, the cultivation of plants in the garden and yard is Misha's responsibility.

"It is fun, digging using my cat form"
— It seems that this is the cat, as Misha spoke to me in her beastkin form during meal time.

"Playing with mud during cat form, it seems that there isn't any sense of incongruity"
"That's right, Goshujin-sama"

Misha look at me with upturned eyes.

"My body is full of mud, so, washing of body..."
